

Week 7 Idea:

Sharing Love – it strikes me that this situation can seem endlessly busy for those of us with kids BUT endlessly lonely for others. This week see how you and your kiddos can share the love of Jesus with those who are in need of some life, love and hope. Fill a bucket!

You can listen to the story “Have you filled a bucket today?” with your kids to inspire this idea.

Quick Ideas:

- Send a card – how exciting to get some snail mail
- Send an email – a message from a kid is
- Send a video of your kids telling some jokes – the video itself will cause a smile even if the jokes aren’t super funny
- Bake something and drop it off on someone’s door step (wondering if this is safe, check out this news clip - <https://www.cbc.ca/player/play/1718132803625>)
- Send some pictures of the silly, cute or interesting things your kids are doing
- Make a Where’s Waldo picture with your kids and send it to someone – see if they can find your kids or stuffed animals in the picture(s)
- Use video calling to talk to someone who lives on their own (you can come up with 3-5 questions and 3 interesting facts to share so the conversation stays alive)

WARNING: Don’t let this stress you out or feel like another thing to do. Just one simple message or short call can cause enough hope to last days!
